

“Tales from the Kitchen Table”

A One-Woman Show

Corrie Gant, a Bandon playwright and actor, is bringing her original one-woman show, ‘Tales from the Kitchen Table’ to the Sprague Theater for one night only, Saturday, Aug. 17, 2024.

In ‘Tales from the Kitchen Table,’ a writer, while meditating in an effort to find inspiration for a play, meets a mysterious old woman. She guides the writer through a panoply of female archetypes by giving the writer different names, trying to find her real name. At times humorous, sad, and scary, ‘Tales from the Kitchen Table’ is one woman’s journey through the joys and sorrows of being female, of being human. This show was recently performed at the Dolphin Playhouse on June 7, 8 and 9. Both performances are supported by a grant from the Coos County Cultural Coalition.

Corrie Gant studied at the Dell’Arte School of Mask, Mime, and Comedy (now Dell’Arte International). She returned to Bandon thirty-seven years ago to live in the house her grandparents built and raise a family. Corrie adapted and directed two of Moliere’s plays for the Bandon Playhouse, and was co-founder of Prosper Road Productions which produced not only ‘The Last Flapper,’ ‘Waiting for Godot,’ and ‘Rumors,’ but also two of her original pieces, ‘The Folly of the Lighthouse Keeper’s Daughter’ and ‘The Lost History of Bandon.’ She toured the previous incarnation of ‘Tales From the Kitchen Table’ from Gold Beach to Willamette University in 1997.

Curtain is at 7 p.m. Doors open for the Gala event at 5:30 p.m. and auditorium doors open at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $25 and include two free drinks. Tickets are available by clicking on the “GET TICKETS” bar on the home page of the Bandon Playhouse website at www.bandonplayhouse.org. To avoid Eventbrite or credit card fees, attendees are welcome to pay by cash or check at the door. No-host food trucks will be available in the Sprague parking lot, along with live music, so plan to come to the Gala for a fun evening of theater!

For more information, call 541-290-9989.